Scrabble is an American television game show that was based on the Scrabble board game. Muriel Green of Exposure Unlimited came up with the initial concept for a television game show based on the Scrabble board game. During 1983 Green convinced Selchow and Righter, who at that time owned the Scrabble board game, to license Exposure Unlimited the right to produce the television show.

One thing to be careful about, besides wearing safety glasses and such, is to protect the board from getting scratched. At least half of the boards in the store were scratched from being stored next to other boards that were slid along them, so obviously you don't want it sliding around on any surface.
